MOBILE DEVICE POLICY

DEFINITION

The term “mobile device” refers to devices that are handheld computing devices. Typically these are smartphones or tablets, but could also refer to laptops, notebooks and communication devices without internet capability.

RATIONALE

All boarders are permitted to have mobile devices at College House. College House recognises that mobile devices bring many benefits for our boarders and their parents. Mobile devices have an increasing role in the work and social life of our young men. It is our aim to help boarders use mobile devices in a positive way. The College House Mobile Device Policy aims to ensure the well-being of our boarders by providing rules and responsibilities surrounding the ownership and use of mobile devices that will ensure optimum conditions for study and sleep. Boarders and parents are asked to ensure that they understand this policy so that mobile devices are used responsibly within the College House environment.

POLICY
